The week, after the retreat, found us with new energies where we discussed about the tasks that we had previously defined on Monday. We checked the work that Alban and Endi had made on the creation of database and then we showed how the frontend was going on so far. We also rechecked every diagram that our group created and spotted the possible mistakes that we could have made before.

Decisions Made:

- Database to be finished by this Friday.
- Frontend to be created around 50% of everything planned.
- Anomalies of diagrams to be spotted and discussed.

- Yusuf and Omer would take care of any further documentation needed for later stages.
